

Evie Jeang

Evie Jeang on Emotional Support in Surrogacy.

<https://surrogacyconcierge.com/evie-jeang/>

About Evie Jeang

Evie Jeang is a Taiwanese-American attorney and entrepreneur, renowned as the President and Founder of Surrogacy Concierge. Her personal journey into motherhood through in vitro fertilization (IVF) and surrogacy in 2014 inspired her to establish this organization, aiming to provide comprehensive support to individuals and couples navigating assisted reproductive technology.

A portrait of Evie Jeang, a woman with long dark hair, smiling slightly. The image is partially obscured by a teal graphic element at the bottom right.

Evie Jeang is a Taiwanese-American attorney, entrepreneur, and founder of Surrogacy Concierge, dedicated to supporting modern family-building through assisted reproductive technology.

Introduction

Evie Jeang emphasizes the critical role of emotional support in surrogacy, highlighting its importance for both intended parents and surrogates throughout the journey. She advocates for clear communication and empathetic understanding to navigate the complex emotional landscape of surrogacy, ensuring a positive experience for all parties involved.

The Role of Emotional Support in Surrogacy

Surrogacy can be an emotional journey for everyone involved. Intended parents may feel excited about growing their family but also experience stress and worry. Surrogates might feel attached, concerned, or even lonely at times. Evie Jeang highlights the need for steady and caring emotional support during this process. She stresses the value of clear communication. Both parents and surrogates should feel comfortable sharing their thoughts and concerns. Open conversations help build trust, ease anxiety, and set realistic expectations, forming the foundation of strong emotional support.

Surrogates Need Care Too

Surrogates also need emotional support, even though the focus is often on the intended parents. Carrying a child for someone else can bring up many emotions. Surrogates might feel stressed about their own lives, worried about the pregnancy, or emotional about giving the baby to the parents. Evie Jeang emphasizes that surrogates need just as much, if not more, support as intended parents. They benefit from having a strong network of medical professionals, counselors, and a caring agency to guide them.

Evie Jeang's Approach to Emotional Support

Evie Jeang promotes a well-rounded approach to surrogacy. She believes in building a strong support system to help both surrogates and intended parents feel informed and emotionally ready. Education is a key part of this. Understanding the emotional challenges both sides might face helps them handle difficult situations better.

Besides support from family and professionals, Jeang encourages connecting with others who have been through surrogacy. Joining support groups or talking to others one-on-one can provide comfort and reduce loneliness. Emotional well-being is important and should never be ignored.

Final Words

Surrogacy is not just about plans or legal steps—it's also about the emotions involved. Evie Jeang reminds us that emotional support is a key part of the process. Both surrogates and intended parents need a caring and supportive network to face the challenges together.

More from Evie Jeang

<https://ideallegalgroup.com/evie-p-jeang/>

<https://surrogacyconcierge.com/evie-jeang/>

<https://voyagela.com/interview/exploring-life-business-with-evie-jeang-of-hera/>

<https://ideallegalgroup.com/zh-hans/evie-p-jeang/>

<https://www.totalprestigemagazine.com/evie-jeang-founder-of-ideal-legal-group-president-and-ceo-of-surrogacy-concierge/>

<https://surrogacymama.com/a-conversation-with-evie-jeang-a-mother-through-surrogacy-and-founder-of-surrogacy-concierge-and-hera/>

<https://voyagela.com/interview/meet-evie-jeang-surrogacy-concierge-alhambra/>

<https://eviepjeang.com/>

THANK YOU

For watching this presentation

Evie Jeang

-  626-569-1813
-  ejeang@surrogacyconcierge.com
-  www.surrogacyconcierge.com/evie-jeang/
-  2880 West Valley Blvd.
Alhambra, CA 91803